

Bugs found: 2

1. Potential deadlock because `t1` locks `String.class` then `Integer.class`, while `t2` locks them in the opposite order.
2. Removing from `l` inside an enhanced `for` loop using `l.remove(0)` can cause `ConcurrentModificationException` if the list contains elements.